

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors of Spirit Open Equestrian Program, Inc

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of Spirit Open Equestrian Program, Inc (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the Statement of Financial Position as of December 31, 2014 and 2013, and the related Statements of Activities and Cash Flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit. I conducted my audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, I express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Spirit Open Equestrian Program, Inc as of December 31, 2014 and 2013, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

A. ORGANIZATION

SPIRIT Open Equestrian Program, Inc. ("SPIRIT") was incorporated January 17, 2007 as a Virginia non-stock corporation organized exclusively for charitable purposes. SPIRIT's articles of incorporation states, among other things, that there "shall be no members" and that the "corporation shall not carry on any activity not permitted by a corporation exempt from Federal income tax under Section 501 (c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code." SPIRIT's affairs are managed by its Board of Directors, which per the articles of incorporation, shall not be less than three, and elected by the current board. Currently, there are eight Board members.

The SPIRIT mission is to provide therapy, learning and improvement of life skills healing of the body, mind and SPIRIT – using Equine-Assisted Activities.

SPIRIT Open Equestrian Program, Inc., is an Equine Assisted Activities program using interaction between humans and horses—on the ground or in the saddle—to provide healing; teach communication, trust, responsibility, partnership, and empathy; and offer people of all ages and abilities an opportunity to strengthen mind, body, and spirit.

SPIRIT is a nationally recognized, 501(c)(3) non-profit organization and a member of the Professional Association of Therapeutic Horsemanship International (PATH International).

SPIRIT provides:

- Equine Assisted Activities for people of all ages and abilities designed to improve their quality of life through horsemanship and equine activities.
- Individualized planning to address each participant's therapeutic, educational, physical, social, and recreational needs.
- Activities to improve life skills.
- In 2014, SPIRIT Equine Assisted Activities included Therapeutic Riding, Equine Assisted Therapy, and Equine Assisted Learning programs with groups and individuals, and in workshops and clinics. Participants of all ages (from 4-80+), many with a wide range of conditions, including cerebral palsy, muscular dystrophy, autism, developmental delays, attention deficit disorder, and emotional and mental health conditions, have benefitted from Equine Assisted Activities as a helpful treatment.
- SPIRIT serves the community by providing Equine Assisted Therapy and Equine Assisted Activities through a contract with the Fairfax County Park Authority (FCPA) as well as collaboration with McLean Community Center, Floris Methodist Church, Prosperity Clinic in Herndon, several certified Equine Assisted Psychotherapy organizations (Teaching Horse, Equibliss, A True Image Consulting), and individual therapists and consultants.
- In 2014, SPIRIT provided 32 weeks of lessons through FCPA at Frying Pan Farm Park: one fall 8-week session, one spring 8-week session, two summer 4-week sessions, two winter 4-week sessions and 8 make-up weeks. 268 students in total attended a total of 1,664 lesson hours.

SPIRIT is registered with the Commonwealth of Virginia Department Agriculture as an entity eligible to solicit public contributions in the Commonwealth.

Notes to the Financial Statements
December 31, 2014 and 2013

SPIRIT is the vision of Davorka Suvak, a 2005 émigré from Croatia. Ms. Suvak founded and operated an equestrian therapeutic program in her native country for twelve years, gaining international fame for the program's accomplishments. Once in the United States, Ms. Suvak wanted to replicate a similar program for Metropolitan Washington families. She is acknowledged as Spirit's founder, its primary certified therapeutic instructor, its executive director and its only employee. She is a non-voting member of the board of directors.

B. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Accounting – The financial statements of Spirit have been prepared on the US GAAP financial framework of accounting. The accrual method is used for calculations of amounts in the financial statements. Under this method, revenue is recognized when earned and expenses are recognized when incurred.

Use of Estimates and Assumptions – Management uses estimates and assumptions in preparing financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Those estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and the reported revenues and expenses. Actual results could vary from the estimates that were used.

Financial Statement Presentation – Spirit reports information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted, temporarily restricted, and permanently restricted.

Contributions – Grants and contributions received are recorded as unrestricted, temporarily restricted, or permanently restricted, depending on the existence and/or nature of any restrictions. Spirit reports gifts of cash and other assets as temporarily restricted support if they are received with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated assets. When a donor restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished, temporarily restricted assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and are reported in the Statement of Activities as Net Assets Released from Restrictions.

Donated Property and Services – Donated Services are a significant part of the efforts of Spirit. Donated volunteer services and the offsetting expenses are reflected at an hourly rate consistent with industry practices. Vendor donations in the form of discounts from standard professional fees and operating costs are recorded according to the amounts reflected as discounts from the applicable vendors. Property gifts and acquisitions are valued at current market value at the date of the gift.

Cash and Cash Equivalents – For purposes of the Statement of Cash Flows, Spirit considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Property and Equipment – Spirit capitalizes expenditures with a useful life of greater than one year that exceed $100. Property and equipment is stated at cost and is depreciated using the straight-line method over an estimated useful life of 5-10 years for equipment and 25 years (less age at acquisition) for livestock.

As of December 31, 2014 and 2013, these assets were valued at $110,726 and $103,042, respectively. Of these totals, approximately $75,530 and $72,409, respectively, of livestock and equipment was donated to Spirit. Depreciation in Program Expense for 2014 and 2013 was $14,749 and $14,950, respectively.

Functional Allocation of Expenses – Spirit's expenses have been summarized on a functional basis in the Statement of Activities. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the areas benefited.

Income Taxes – The Internal Revenue Service has recognized Spirit as a Section 501(c)(3) organization exempt from income tax under Section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code and applicable income tax regulations of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

C. CONCENTRATIONS AND RISKS

In 2010, Spirit executed a contract with Fairfax County, Virginia to provide equestrian education classes as requested by the Fairfax County Park Authority ("FCPA"). Spirit is responsible for providing equines and all necessary equipment, and the FCPA is responsible for providing equestrian facilities for the classes. To date, all classes have been provided at covered and open enclosed rings at FCPA's Frying Pan Park in Herndon, Virginia, which is adjacent to Spirit's equine boarding facilities. The contract has been amended and extended several times and renews April of every year. By agreement, the parties' goal is to have at least 50% of the lessons be therapeutic in purpose. However, FCPA has sole discretion to place riders in the lessons and charges riders a fee for the lessons. In turn, Spirit bills FCPA a per lesson charges based on the type of lessons which are negotiated annually. Spirit invoices FCPA after riders complete a stipulated number of lessons during a session. The accompanying statement of activities includes $90,460 and $55,970 under contracted revenues in 2014 and 2013, respectively, from this funding source which represents 20.2% and 12.4% of total revenues and 40.8% and 37% of total cash revenues, respectively.

When not providing lessons in connection with the FCPA contract, Spirit uses, without charge, the enclosed ridding rings at Frying Pan Park to provide its other therapeutic programs for riders.

The additional land is used to exercise the livestock and the farmhouse is used for Spirit's office. Both properties being rented by Spirit are under option by a developer who plans to develop this and adjacent land commercially in the near future once a zoning change is obtained.

For year-end December 31, 2014 and 2013 an additional single revenue source makes up about 10.4% and 12.6%, respectively, of total cash revenues.

D. LEASES

For several years, Spirit rented approximated one acre adjacent to Frying Pan Park which was used exclusively to board its livestock. This lease is $950 per month and is for an undetermined period of time terminable with 90 days' notice. Contiguous to this land is 3.36 acres with a farm house that, starting in October 2013, Spirit began renting under a one year lease. The monthly rent is $1,800 and is currently a month-to-month lease. The additional land is used to exercise the livestock and the farmhouse is used for Spirit's office. Both properties being rented by Spirit are under option by a developer who plans to develop this and adjacent land commercially in the near future once a zoning change is obtained.

Rent expense for these facilities was $34,600 and $17,390 for 2014 and 2013, respectively.

E. CONTRIBUTED SERVICES

Spirit would be unable to operate without the high level of donated services and property gifts it receives. These contributions include free use of the equestrian facilities at Fairfax County's Frying Pan Park next door, significant volunteer time commitments and receiving discounts from standard prices from vendors and professionals.

All lessons are conducted in the adjacent facilities at the Frying Pan Park, either in the outdoor equestrian ring or when inclement weather requires, the indoor arena. Occasionally, Spirit pays for using the facilities for shows. Spirit has not included the rental value from Frying Pan Park in its financial statements.

In 2014, Spirit had 198 active volunteers (up from 83 in 2013) who contributed 9,727 hours doing jobs such as assisting instructors, mucking stalls, feeding and exercising the horses, and carrying on the administrative functions of a small business. Volunteers' ages are 11 to 70+ and some travel up to 40 miles from their home to participate.

Spirit Open Equestrian Program, Inc.
Notes to the Financial Statements
December 31, 2014 and 2013

Many volunteers work a few hours three or four times a week and several volunteers exceeded 500 hour per year. During 2014 and 2013, the value of volunteer time for program services and facility support was $225,987 and $231,958, respectively.

F. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The following subsequent events were evaluated through October 1, 2015 which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

As of the issuance of these financial statements, the farm house lease has not yet been renewed. Fairfax County initiated a negotiator to extend the contract for services to FCPA through April 2018.
